

Hurricane Gustav 2

Just a quick note to let you know the status of our preparations. There will be two of us, myself and Matt, who will be heading out after church on Sunday afternoon from CC Sarasota. We will make a brief stop in Brooksville to pick up some much needed supplies from Christian Contractors Association. Scott has graciously offered us some rolls of tarp, sticks, water, etc. We'll take as much as we can safely travel with. Praise God for His provisions!

Gary from Mercy Chefs is also heading out tomorrow from Virginia and we will be meeting up with Operation Blessing, also from Virginia. OB already has people on the ground making preparations. A group from Committed Relief and Parakletos International are heading out from California Monday morning and we expect to also be joining up with them.

If you've been watching the storm, you know that it has strengthened and moving almost twice as fast as it was yesterday. We were planning on arriving on Monday afternoon, but with the storm changes, we will be driving straight through to arrive by Monday morning. Since I now have someone to ride with me, this won't be a problem, again, praise God!

If the storm continues as it is, this will not be a small thing. Please continue to pray for the storm to weaken. Pray for all the folks who've already experienced the storm, for those evacuating, those staying, those traveling in to help and also for whatever else God would have you to do. There will be a lot of opportunities to be Jesus' Hands & Feet, which part of the Body will you be?
